Definite funeral arrangements have not been made at the hour of going to press, but it is to be preached by Rev. Bolton of the Christian church at the home at the hour of 10 a. m. unless changed on account of later plans.

What we would term a neighborly act of kindness was displayed in the neighborhood of Dombey, Oklahoma, one day last week when Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Tepner took advantage of the absence of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. West and gave the house a thorough cleaning. Mrs. West was stricken with a slight illness Tuesday of last week upon her arrival in Liberal and had to stop over to receive the attentions of the doctor, and Mrs. Tepner being a woman of foresight and realizing the feasible efforts of a man keeping house watched for the departure of Mr. West and immediately got the dish rag in one hand and the broom in the other and got very busy with the result that the lady who had been ill and away from home for several days met with the happy surprise of entering a household as clean and neat as a pin.

Bert Whims left Wednesday for a visit in the eastern part of the state after which he will go on to Canada where he will locate on a claim.

Ralph Warren, bookkeeper at the Equity Exchange, has decided that boarding house fare and a room with strangers are not just the most delightful circumstances in life no matter if the surroundings are pleasant, so he will be bringing to Liberal a lady who will make his life complete. At Tyrone, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock he will be married to Miss Osie Grant of that city. The wedding will be performed at the Friends church and after a few day's vacation they will be located in Liberal.

No Celebration Here

As quiet as the tomb, was the city of Liberal on Independence Day, this year. Every body who could went some place. Only a few stayed at home, including some of those who prefer to celebrate in a manner more seclusive and to individual liking. But most of those who went away were either at Meade or Guymon, Oklahoma, and reports from both places give out the impression that the visitors had a good time. The crowds were large and from a point of attendance they were above the average. The only thing lacking was the big shady groves and trees. The Liberal ball team which played the Tyrone sluggers was defeated. The Guymon team was also shorn of honors by the Tyrone players. At Meade, a lake and boats furnished amusement for part of the crowd. And a delegation of the Liberal people are planning a Sunday outing there some time in the near future. Quite a good many of the population found its way to Garden City, where they had such a good time that they did not get back until some time the day following. The trains were late from both Guymon and Meade and most of the celebrators from those two places spent several hours Saturday morning in taking a beauty sleep. Altogether the 4th was a very glorious one. The next thing coming on is the Chautauqua and the Fair in September which will just about close up the season for summer amusements.

S. S. Outing

The Independence and Lone Star Sunday Schools of the Oklahoma side gathered at the Holland Grove on Sharps creek on July fourth for a picnic and general good time. There was a number of autos came out from Liberal and after the forenoon was spent in general conversation and visiting, dinner was announced, after which a program of singing speaking and recitations was given which had been previously arranged by the Sunday Schools. While the children spent the day swinging and in games of frolic and the men were busily engaged in discussing timely topics of the day, some of ladies silently slipped away and indulged in wading the clear stream and foot washing.

It was plainly evident that those who were fortunate as to be in attendance thoroughly enjoyed the bounteous supply of delicious edibles which had been prepared by the ladies, fully as much if not more than they did the lounging around under the large shade trees.

Illustrated here are two medallions in Irish crochet suitable for the decoration of the summer lingerie waist. Many women are now designing their stock of summer blouses, and the medallions, which are comparatively simple in construction, may be easily made. They may be used with insertions of valenciennes or cluny lace or with combinations of these two lace upon the blouses.

When making the motifs the scalloped edges may be omitted if preferred.

The shield shaped decoration consists of three wheels, two trefoils, a sprig in double crochet and point lace stitch for the center and two sprigs at the corners done in double crochet. The wheels are in double crochet, with the exception of the spokes, which are in double treble. The sprigs are tucked to a piece of table oilcloth and then joined together with picot chains.

The upper medallion is made with four crochet roses joined with chains and arches and entirely bordered with crochet scallops.

Peace at Home.

"A man should be willing to spend his evenings at home."

"Yes," said the man with the querulous voice.

"But what is he going to do when his wife insists on being taken to all the musical comedies?"—Yonkers Statesman.

She Was Easy.

"What's the matter, little boy?" inquired the kindly old lady.

"I jes' lost 5 cents," replied the little boy, who was crying bitterly.

"Well, here's 5 cents more for you, so don't cry. How did you lose it?"

"I lost it pitchin' pennies!"—Fun.

His Sense of Humor.

"Don't some of the decorations on women's hats amuse you?"

"Yes," the plumes especially tickle me very much."—Woman's Home Companion.
